

Cancer in the Workplace

Current Care Issues for Employers

March 15, 2016 | The Monona Terrace, 1 John Nolen Drive, Madison, WI 53703

AGENDA

- 8 — 8:30 a.m. Registration and Breakfast
- 8:30 — 8:45 a.m. Welcome and Opening Comments, Cheryl DeMars, The Alliance
- 8:45 — 9:45 a.m. Employer Perspectives on Cancer Management, Lynn Zonakis
- 9:45 — 10:00 a.m. Networking Break
- 10:00 — 11:00 a.m. Identifying Evidence-Based Strategies to Improve Benefits & Resources for Employees Living with Cancer, Lillie Shockney
- 11:00 — 11:15 a.m. Cancer in the Workplace - Resources for Employers, Cheryl DeMars
- 11:15 — 11:20 a.m. Closing Comments & Adjourn

FEATURED SPEAKERS

Lynn Zonakis

Former Managing Director of Health Strategy and Resources, Delta Air Lines

Lynn Zonakis recently retired from Delta Air Lines, where she served as managing director, health strategy & resources from 2004-2015.

She was responsible for strategy, design, and performance of Delta's health and welfare benefits provided to Delta's 150,000 employees, retirees, and dependents. She was also responsible for disability, absence, workers' compensation, occupational health and EAP programs provided to Delta employees.

In retirement, Zonakis is providing independent health care consulting to employers, health care companies, government entities, and other health industry groups. These services include strategy, design, measurement, and sourcing for health, pharmacy, clinical and care management, and health and wellbeing programs.

Zonakis is certified in occupational health and case management, and holds degrees in Psychology from Indiana University and Nursing from Emory University, Atlanta.

Lillie Shockney, RN, BS, MAS
Administrative Director, Johns Hopkins Breast Center

Lillie Shockney has been the administrative director of the Johns Hopkins Breast Center since 1997 and serves as the director of the Johns Hopkins Cancer Survivorship programs.

A two-time breast cancer survivor, Shockney has worked tirelessly to improve the care of breast cancer patients around the world. She has worked at Johns Hopkins since 1983.

Shockney is a published author and nationally recognized speaker on the subject of cancer with a focus on cancer survivorship. She has written 14 books and more than 250 articles on cancer care. She is also the editor-in-chief of Journal of Oncology Nurse & Patient Navigators (AONN+) and a consultant for breast cancer for ABC News and Good Morning America and is consulted regularly by the Today Show and CNN. Shockney serves on 34 medical advisory boards currently.

In 2008, the Johns Hopkins Board of Trustees appointed her to a chair as a University Distinguished Service Assistant Professor of Breast Cancer. This is the first time in the history of the institution that a hospital nurse has been appointed to a distinguished service designation. She was promoted to a Distinguished Service Associate Professor of Breast Cancer in 2009.