Checklist for CTs/MRIs

Has your doctor told you that you need a CT or an MRI? Follow this checklist to make sure you get the most out of your QualityPath[®] benefits.

1 Before Your CT or MRI appointment

- Find a QualityPath CT or MRI provider here: the-alliance.org/qualitypathnetwork
- Have your doctor contact the QualityPath clinic or hospital to start the process.
- Schedule your appointment with the QualityPath clinic or hospital when they call you.
 - Have your insurance card handy as they may ask for your insurance information.
 - If your CT or MRI includes contrast, you may need to have blood tests done by your doctor before you have the scan.
- Print your QualityPath program card here: the-alliance.org/qpcard

If your doctor hasn't heard of QualityPath, here's how you can explain it.

- With QualityPath, I'll know that my scan will be done with the least radiation necessary.
- National quality standards for diagnosis and follow-up care will be met – that's important to me.
- I can save money.
- I can get a warranty on my scan.

2 Day of Your CT or MRI

- Bring your insurance card as well as your QualityPath program card.
- If you are given a copy of your CT or MRI on a CD, take this with you to your follow up visit with your doctor.

3 After Your CT or MRI

- If you have a CD of your CT or MRI, give it to your doctor at your follow up appointment. If you were not given a copy, your test results will be sent to your doctor via MyChart.
 - Your doctor will also receive information about the test directly from the QualityPath provider, usually within two days.
- If your doctor tells you that you need the same test done again contact The Alliance at 800.223.4139 x6607. We can help you with this.
