What to look for

A clear ID Card can prevent misdirected claims and phone calls, improving the customer experience. Please use the following checklist to review your ID Cards:

- Is it clear to providers where to send claims? The Alliance must receive all medical claims.
- Is it easy for employees to determine who to call with questions about benefits, claims, or precertification? These questions should go to their third-party administrator (TPA).

Payer identification number

We require you to include our payer identification number for electronic claims submission on your ID Cards along with our claims filing address.

The Alliance payer identification number is as follows:

- Payer ID #88461

Additional questions or concerns regarding our payer identification number or EDI connectivity, can be directed to salessupport@the-alliance.org.
